Fund Drive Gathers $; Half of Goal Reached

By JOHN M. SMITH

The proverbial rolling stone may gather no moss, but Harvey (Alumni Hall by Fall) Seltzer and his hard working crew have picked up $3,000 worth of the stuff in the last two weeks.

"The drive to date has reached 55% of its goal or a total of $8,330," Seltzer announced yesterday. "However," he said, "there are still about 800 pledge cards in the hands of the committee men which have not been turned in to the Development Fund Headquarters. Every effort should be made by the committee to contact as many prospects as possible before the Easter vacation," he continued.

No deadline has yet been set for the conclusion of the Student Campaign because plans have not yet been received to date with 30% of them being on the "share" idea which goes for $25.

The names of all donors to the Alumni Hall Fund Drive will be listed on a gold plaque to be erected in that building when it is ready for occupancy in the fall and all those students who donated $25 or more will have a star placed next to their names.

The title "Committee Man of the Week" has been won by Betty Sarmast of Linden Hall who has turned in all seven of her pledge cards for a total of $120. Other committeemen who have completed their assignments to date are: Jerry Maurer, John Rossignol, Hank Steffans, and Marion Verrilli.

"There are plenty of opportunities for organizations to work on similar projects because the needs for Alumni Hall are many, including: pianos, lounging facilities, tables, chairs, lamps, draperies, rugs, ping-pong equipment, card tables, desks, trophy cases and pictures.

Annual Speech Contest April 24

The English Department will conduct its fifth annual public speaking contest April 24. The contest will be by elimination with both day and evening division students eligible for participation. First prize will be a portable typewriter, donated by the Underwood Corporation.

The competition will begin in each of the regular speech class sections with one student from each section being selected for the quarter finals. In groups of three, the section representatives will then speak in the semi-finals, April 14, 15, and 21.

Students not presently enrolled in speech classes may also take part in the contest by competing among themselves April 22, with the winner entertaining the competition at the semi-final level.

The contest finals will be held in Bassick high school auditorium and will be open to the public. William S. Banks, instructor in speech and drama, is the chairman of the contest.

Advisees Meeting On April 29th

The convocation period on April 29 has been selected as the time when advisors will meet with their advisees to initiate their registration for the summer term. Convocation credit will be given to all those attending.

Launers Study, Work Full Time; Seek Degrees

By NAEMI LUND

Who could ever believe that a man and wife with four children could each hold down a full time job and still have time to work for degrees at the University?

Well, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Launer, of Fairfield, have done just that and what's more—they like it!

Mr. Launer, who has been employed at General Electric for the past ten years, is completing his degree work for the College of Education in the Evening Division. He did some college work at Syracuse University way back in 1932 and plans to finish up by next Fall and become a mathematics teacher.

Mrs. Launer became a registered nurse after studying at a Syracuse hospital and is finishing her studying in the College of Nursing at the University in the Evening Division. She works full-time at the Bridgeport Hospital and finds time to take care of her four children.

The couple will take time off from their studies next Monday to be interviewed by Mr. Wendell Kellogg on UB's radio program, "Across My Desk," over WNAB at 8:30 P. M.

Merchandise Majors Secure Good Jobs

Although they will not graduate until June, the following Fashion Merchandising students have positions in department stores awaiting them:

Anne Marie Festa and Janet Squires will be employed at G. Fox & Co., in Hartford and Joyce Mathewson will start her merchandising career at the D. M. Read Co., Bridgeport.

Three-Ring Circus Dance In Armory 'Tent' Friday

UB students will get their 1952 circus preview Friday night at the annual Circus Dance at the Armory beginning at 8:30 P. M.

The Circus Dance, instituted in 1948, has become a major campus tradition sponsored jointly by the Social Activities Committee and the Campus Chest Committee. Charles Smith is chairman of both committees.

The Circus Dance is a three-ring combination dance, circus side-show and charity event. Twenty-one active student organizations will sponsor booths for the raising of campus chest funds. Prizes will be awarded the organization which has the most original booth, the most decorative booth, and the organization which raises the most money. Entertainment, door prizes, and dancing will also be featured. Music for this dance, which will be carried on simultaneously with the continual operation of the booths, will be furnished by Danny Leeson and his Kampus Kings, a newly organized band group composed mostly of University music students.

Hall of Fame May Be New Campus Tradition

UB, fast becoming an institution of many fine traditions, has launched another project which, in all likelihood, will be added to the long line of campus customs.

A committee has been set up to institute a "Hall of Fame" to be housed in Alumni Hall.

The Hall of Fame will not only honor outstanding athletes, but scholars of the University as well.

Among the proposed plans for the newly organized project is to honor the past, present and all future presidents of the college, individuals who have accomplished the most in each graduating class, members of the Alumni who have achieved outstanding accomplishments, and the top man in each graduating class.

Nominations for the Hall of Fame will be made by the student body and voted on by a committee composed of students, members of the faculty and representatives of the administration.

Since the proposals are still in the embryonic stage, suggestions from the student body and the administration are in order. All correspondence should be directed to the SCRIBE office c/o John M. Smith.

UB Students To 'Run' Bpt. For One Day

Plans are being drawn up by the Political Relations Forum, with cooperation of Mayor McLevy and the UB administration, for students to take over the government of the city of Bridgeport for one day.

Election of a student Mayor of Bridgeport, President of the Common Council, President of the Board of Education, City Attorney, Police Commissioner, Fire Commissioner, President of the Board of Health, and other city officials will take place on the University campus during the latter half of April.

The objective of the plan is to acquaint students with the organization and function of city government through actual participation and observation.

Scribe Shorthanded

Anyone interested in writing, typing, business management, or advertising soliciting for The SCRIBE is urged to drop up to The SCRIBE office at their earliest convenience.

Illnesses and graduation have taken many staff members away and still more will be leaving this June. If you want to grab a position on the staff, speak up!

High Schoolers See UB Campus

The first in a program of UB co-ordinated "High School Days," an affair held in accordance with Bassick, Central, and Warren Harding High Schools was held on campus yesterday.

The seniors who showed interest in attending UB were taken on a tour and shown academic sights of interest. The University tours were conducted by former students from those high schools.

The day consisted of viewing various academic buildings, land-

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 37...THE SWORDFISH

They crossed swords with the wrong man when they engaged this swashbuckling senior in combat! At first, he was foiled by the tricky, "one-puff" . . . "one-sniff" cigarette mildness tests. But he parried their thrusts with this gleaming sword of logic: The only way you can judge mildness is by steady smoking. That's the true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

For the past few weeks, and in the weeks coming up, most of the fraternities on campus will have finished their pledging or will be right in the middle of it. I have quite a list of names of those who have just been pledged, but before I list them, I would like to congratulate the IFC and all the fraternities for the excellent job they did in seeing that no ineligible students were allowed to pledge. It's a pleasure to see such an improvement made after the past few years in which almost anyone was pledged . . . Now to the new fraternity members.

Sigma Lambda Chi—Peter Mumford, Bud Farrell, Easton Smith, Dick Bromberg, Ira Cohen, Larry Jacobs, Carlo Racamato, and Sid Bader, Upsilon Beta Sigma—Will Carter, Firth Neal, Lenny Flicko, Bob Riordan, Norm Hadad, Ronnie Covilino, Ed Kovac and Tony Simonelli, Kappa Beta Rho—Al Jessup, Zeke Carroll, Doug Harrigan, George Sweeny, Roger Bassett, Steve Andrews, Lou Clisko, George Fatse, Lennie Cocco, Jimmy Lee, and Skip Young. Congratulations and lots of luck to all of you.

Sigma Lambda Chi, through their dance and journal, raised $300 for the student union building. They deserve a pat on the back for the excellent work they did in raising this amount . . . Al Jessup, KBR, just getting over an attack of measles.

Beta Gamma and Pi Omega Chi are having their big weekend starting on April 4. On that night they're holding a "Silver Mardi Gras" semi-formal at Lenny's Wagon Wheel. Everyone is invited and the price is $2.00. I understand they're putting on a big musical show which will contain parodies and a couple of original tunes which are supposed to be out of this world. They were written by Ron Gold and Phil Carrubba of POC. Elaine Rosenstone, BG, has the lead in the show and is supposed to be terrific. Following the dance, on April 5 and 6, the two organizations are having a closed picnic. A cocktail party at Leigh Danenberg's house concludes the weekend. It should be a real great weekend for members of both groups.

SLC and their hellnight in New York. It was supposed to be very funny . . . The Sigma Alpha dance last weekend was a great success for that fraternity. They had a nice crowd and the Minstrel Show was enjoyed immensely by everyone. Al Zavadsky and Bill Bigda had a big hand in making the affair a success. Al, for the amount of work he did in preparing the show, and Bill, for the tremendous sign he made for the Snack Bar, and for the decoration in that place. One of the best jobs done on advertising a dance this year, or for that matter any year . . . By the way, our new cheering squad is terrific. Such form and technique, WOW!!! . . . Jack Shields, POC, now in the U. S. Army.

DEB wants to thank everyone who turned out in support of their dance. Also, a special vote of thanks to Ed Kolagic who scouted up the entertainment . . . AGP right in the midst of pledging . . . Congratulations to Frank Anastas, Pres. of KBR, for his excellent swimming record which has gained him invitations to tournaments all over the country and a possible trip to the summer Olympics . . . Tuition, Board Rates Upped for Fall Term

The University has announced today that effective with the fall term tuition rates will be increased from $250 to $275 and board and room from $275 to $300 per semester. The rate for the evening tuition will go from $15 to $16 a semester hour.

In announcing the increases, Dr. Littlefield, said, "The University has just completed a survey of its financial prospects for 1952-1953. As with other educational institutions, inflation and decreased student enrollment threaten to upset the budget. We have made several adjustments and introduced non-academic economies to offset some of the increased costs.

"However, in order to continue our present high academic program and to maintain our present standard of dormitory and dining service, the University has been forced to increase the costs of tuition and dormitories. These increases have been kept to a minimum. Even with these changes, rates at the University of Bridgeport are still substantially lower than comparable institutions.

"It is our sincere hope that no student will be prevented from completing his course because of these increases. Although the number of scholarships, work scholarships and loan funds are limited, yet the Committee on Scholarships, Work Grants and Loans will give most careful consideration to all applications from present students. We regret as you do the necessity for the higher fees, but we do feel certain that you understand fully the factors which make it obligatory."

Music Department Sponsors Wisteria Recital Sunday

As part of its Spring program, the music department will present a recital of its voice, piano and violin students to be held at Wisteria Hall on Sunday at 4:00 P. M.

Sunday's program is part of a series of monthly recitals given by the Music Department designed to bring music to the campus and to give the members of the department's applied music classes an opportunity to perform in public. At the end of the year the department will give a recital for the general public in Bridgeport. The participants will be chosen from this group of students.

Sunday's recital will be open to all students and members of the faculty and staff. Refreshments will be served and Mr. Harold Dart, Assistant Professor of Music, will act as host.

Participating in the recital will be:

Howard Marks, Bette Samast, Richard Fourtin, Sidney Karam, Jane Marshall, Dawn Anderson, Flora Swanhall, Richard Probst, Edward Leach, Delores Quicorra, Mrs. Bozena Roucek.

Bpt. Industry Greets MSA

By RON GOLD

The Bridgeport Chain Company is the latest plant in the Bridgeport area to hire UB/MSA students. The shop now joins the ranks of many small and large concerns that find that the community and the world as well as the individual shop gains by hiring skilled MSA workers.

As of March 19 deadline, some 37 MSA students have found employment in Bridgeport industry.

Originally some 68 men came to UB from various Mutual Security Agency countries and have sought work in the Bridgeport area. These men made the University campus their homes. They have found out (among other things) that Americans are not as vivacious as anti-American propaganda has made us appear. They have also found out that Americans and other people can find many similarities to build friendships on.

At first, many troubles came into the picture and hurt the well laid plans of the Agency, but now, according to Mr. Thomas Farrell, UB/MSA co-ordinator, most of the major problems have worked themselves out.

Kampus Kings Debut Friday

The Kampus Kings, a musical aggregation developed recently on campus by a group of UB musicians, will make their debut this Friday at UB's Circus Dance.

The group consists of Danny Leeson, John Rosignol, Chris De Luca, and Ricky Bruno, saxes; Frank Kraynick and Gary Singer, trumpets; Kid Griswald, trombone; Howie Marks, piano; Larry Marks, bass; Billie Jane Marks, vocalist; and Pete DeDario, drums.

Mr. Farrell also stated that he sees hope for the plan. He sees the plan as a "big brother" that may pave the way for future plans at other universities.

A Walk in the Dark

By CHARLES J. SMITH

"Stop groping in the dark. Get out, and get us a story." That's what my editor said. Now, what kind of a story can a guy dig up 10:00 P. M.? It was a mystery to me!

With the collar of my raincoat turned up and a pencil in my teeth, I left the office, looking somewhat like a guilty criminal. I started my quest by walking down Bill O'Brien's Park Place, gave a dime to a senior saving up for his Graduate Record Exam. Fee, and muttered something in Greek that I read in "Alpha to Zeta".

It was dark on Park Place and I was startled by the sudden glare of headlights from a passing car. I hoped that he would stop on the "No Parking" side of the street, feeling that it might mean a story.

Instead, I heard a familiar call. "Hi ya, Charlie." If sounds were colored, my friend spoke to me in Erin green. After being blinded by the glare of his shiney badge, I recognized Mr. Robert G. (for George) McCarthy, special policeman, number 505, father of two, and grandfather of one, better known as "Mac".

Mac is the "protector of life and liberty, guardian of the people, and night inspector of the University buildings". Mac checks in at night for unlocked doors and abnormal nocturnal activities. He works till 2 A. M.

Anybody who keeps an eye on UB nite life will recognize him by his uniform, his swift walk, .38 revolver, and his familiar time clock.

After I had regrouped my forces by picking my chewed-up pencil off the sidewalk, I gave my report, "How are you, Mac?" . . . I knew the answer before I had finished asking the question. "The best in Bridgeport, Charlie."

I walked with Mac, in the dark, in and out of buildings through the Fones Hall "Quad", past the Audio-Visual Aids Center, and around the Tech Building parking lot. Mac, a native of Bridgeport, has been at UB for three years and says he likes the job.

"The students are the friendliest that I have ever seen and my bosses are lovely people to work for. Every time I hear a 'How's the best in Bridgeport,' or 'How's the ulcers?' from a passing student, it makes the job even more satisfying. Why, I'd do almost anything for these kids."

That is what Mac thinks of UB.

When I thought of my editor, sitting up there in the office, I turned to a new page in my note pad, and queried Mac about some of his exciting experiences. Mac snapped on his large searchlight, gave a look behind a dormitory porch, and scratched his head.

"Charlie, there really isn't much to tell. I remember working with Coach Kay Kowdratovich to catch two fellows on the top of Seaside Hall. They had made a pretty good haul at Stratford the previous week and were trying their luck a little farther. The coach's 'hawkshawing' and private eye really came in handy."

"But, Mac," I returned, "tell me something funny, interesting, different."

"Well, Charlie," he answered, "the kids do odd things at odd times and anything I might say would hurt some of their feelings."

Fashion Forecast For Fifty-two

UB Fashion Merchandising majors have been scouting New York manufacturers for the latest spring fashions to bring back to campus to sell on a non-profit basis.

Included in these fashions will be cotton dresses that have the look of silk, cotton quilted skirts with flares, denim sportswear ensembles, and cotton Bermuda shorts and halters. Cotton knit jerseys and nylon and nylon tricot blouses will also be included in the buying project.

A Campus Tradition

Now that the "Alumni Hall by Fall" idea is gaining more acceptance and support daily, a great number of students have expressed concern over the fate of the present Snack Bar in the Fones Hall Annex. Almost everyone on campus will agree that the converted stables are inadequate for the needs of such a large student body. We're all looking forward to the new Student Center Building, but a great number of students are expressing a reluctance to give up the tradition that the Snack Bar has become on campus since the University moved to the Seaside Park campus.

Undoubtedly this building will be put to good use—perhaps as part of the adjoining music department... perhaps as a little theatre. One particular suggestion that has been made for its use and one which may enable us to keep this Snack Bar tradition, atmosphere, and camaraderie is the idea of moving the section of the annex to the site of Alumni Hall for use as a recreation room.

Perhaps this idea, or another to save our present center of student life, would be a good thought to bring to the attention of the Alumni Association. We're all for keeping traditions. We have too few as it is.

It's for You

The University has set up the Campus Chest to keep the local charities from constantly soliciting students for all types of drives. The monies taken in at the Circus Dance are distributed to worthy charities as decided upon by the students. Back this plan by attending the Circus Dance tomorrow evening at the Armory.

Student Apathy

Every organization on campus has suffered at various times from acute attacks of student apathy. The very foundations of such groups are threatened by a mysterious dissension between the members as well as between the officers. When they first join organizations, most students display a great deal of enthusiasm and present a wealth of new ideas, but eventually they seem to lose their initial interest and begin to feel unrewarded for their work.

The only rewards for extra-curricular activities are the experiences of working with people and enjoying the tangible results of their efforts. Their interest is actually lasting but it is not communicated to all the members—it is kept within individuals. Regardless of all the good that students see in their organizations they bellow continuously about only the worst internal and external troubles of their groups. It is only natural for difficulties to arise in every group, but the repeated utterances of complaints among members inevitably results in a hopeless, erroneous impression of complete corruption to onlookers as well as members.

Talk up the good in your organization and the group morale, interest and productive endeavor will improve.

Join Barnum Festival

The University and the City of Bridgeport have combined their efforts and interests on many commendable community projects. The opportunity for furthering this cooperative spirit is obvious in the Barnum Festival.

If, in addition to the elaborate float which the University sponsors in the Festival parade, every fraternal group and club on the campus entered a float of some type the parade would be more of a success, the citizens of Bridgeport would be more conscious of the University, and the University itself would be furthering the urban university cause.

Even though the Festival will be held after finals, most organizations have enough city students who can meet to contrive a float.

Dear Editor:

Three cheers for the UB Basketball team. Their fame has been spreading to Europe.

I would like to express thanks to The SCRIBE for sending me a little bit of UB while I was stationed at Camp Edwards, Mass.

Today I was able, with the help of Dr. Marcus' German classes, to trade two packages of cigarettes for a loaf of French bread a yard long, a bottle of wine, and a fish. I still don't know what to do with the bread and fish. This transaction was made with a German speaking French stevedore from a porthole of the ship we were on, docked at a French port.

To The SCRIBE, thanks again! To any friends at UB, let's hear from you! To Dr. Marcus, Danke!

Despite Bill O'Brien's threatening statements against me and the fact that I did indeed wear orange on St. Patrick's Anniversary, I managed to survive the day even after presenting the 'SCRIBE' Columnist with an orange candy token of remembrance.

Perhaps the fact that he did not aim his green Plymouth at me was because he couldn't start the wreck, or maybe it was just in deference to his many English ancestors. Although he has thus far hidden the fact (what else could one do with a name like O'Brien). "Irish" Bill's background derives more color from the red rose than it does from the shamrock. However, Bill, outward appearances being what they are, St. George will undoubtedly be tolerant.

Council Blasts Apathy at UB

"Student apathy toward extra-curricular activities on the UB campus appears to be at a new low," said Edward Anderson, president of the Student Council, in an interview with a SCRIBE reporter last week.

"After a careful consideration of the matter, members of the Council and myself feel that there are these main reasons for this apathy which besets UB:

"Campus leaders are inexperienced. Many people tell the members of the council what NOT to do, but who is there to suggest to us, either what can be done or how it can be done. The members of the Council try, but they feel that they need direction and advice in order to settle many issues. I suggest that there be trained and interested advisers who can help the council members."

Anderson went on to say, "Another cause of student apathy may be that the University administration is unnecessarily conservative."

To improve the situation, Anderson suggests that the students attempt to settle one problem at a time, and proceed step-by-step under proper guidance and direction. "Set up a positive program and stop emphasizing the negative", Anderson concluded.

ings. They're my friends, you know."

We walked back to Park Place and I was sort of proud. I had known Mac for three years and this walk in the dark, really brought back memories. Mac is 53, was a deputy keeper at the North Ave. County Jail before he came here, and hopes to be around the campus for a long, long time.

Actually, I don't think he'll ever leave the hearts of the students or the memories already imbedded in the paths, offices, buildings, and dormitories around campus.

I watched Mac drive away in his familiar black Plymouth, put my pencil back in my mouth, and made my way back to my editor.

There is no mystery about it, Mac certainly deserves to be placed in UB's annals as the "Best in Bridgeport!"

Pat Rogoff, (she's a 'look-er') is going steady with Thomas Hooker . . . (I mean Stan Bresler) (I'm being carried away) Bulletin: Flash! Dateline State Sanitarium, Newtown . . .

Good evening Mr. and Mrs. University of Bridgeport and all the pips you see, I was carried away by two men in a white coat. (One white coat, and they thought I was nuts?)

Eunice Heller received a pin from Manny Sternschein and a pinning party, I mean, a party to celebrate the pinning was sponsored by the couple at the Flashenberg-Sternschein domicile. The group then proceeded to the SPA dance.

Fred Mills, whose home has become the new fraternity house for Theta Sigma, has a tape recorder which was placed in the little girl's coat room and which is now for sale to all interested males for a small fortune. Fred has held a party a week for the last month.

Here's a goody one: Dr. Philoon has been invited to speak before the Bridgeport Federation of Democratic Women on April 1. P. S. To the Democratic Women, Dr. Philoon is a Republican. (And on April Fool's Day!) Amen!

Scholars Absorb Talk by Jayne

The fourth annual Scholars Dinner, held in honor of the University's forty most academically outstanding students, was held Friday night at 6:45 in the Marina Hall dining room.

Martha Jayne, dean of the College of Nursing, was the principal speaker of the evening. Dean Jayne spoke on the subject of the "Sacrosanct Scholar."

President James H. Halsey extended greetings to the scholars and guests and Vice-President Henry W. Littlefield made the introductions. Doris Bjorklund, Abby Elstein, and Nancy Walter led the group in the singing of the Alma Mater and Clarence D. L. Ropp, dean of the College of Arts and Science, delivered the invocation.

Those students representing the senior class were:

Edward J. Anderson, King Frazer, William Kennedy, Wilbur Land, Mary Pirrello, Stuart Rideout, Anthony Spetrino, Mary Junghans, George Matthews and Peter Mumford.

Those students representing the junior class were:

Jean Baraynar, Lawrence Colbert, Felix Czachorowski, Mary Hitchcock, Mary Jane Marshall, Aldo Tenti, Howard Kosma, Victor Reicher, Muriel Rosoff, and Charles Smith.

Those students representing the sophomore class were:

Robert Boyer, George Farquar, Edward Firer, Howard Marks, Harvey Seltzer, Frieda Sheitelman, Ann Festa, Eugene Komarek, Morris Shilepsky and Carmel Wenderoth.

Those students representing the freshman class were:

Joyce Cimelus, Robert Curley, Barbara Fredrickson, Marvin Gelfand, James Halsey, Jr., Anthony Simonelli, Joan Reid, Andrew Wargo, Kenneth Benham, and Sondra Nalib.

Golf Gets Going April 2: UB vs. Adelphi Is Opener

By AL LEPOW

Under the tutelage of Coach Herb Glines, the University informal golf team is readying itself for one of their most ambitious schedules ever.

With 10 matches scheduled, the season gets under way on April 2nd, and runs through May 9th. The Intercollegiate Tournament, which will be held in New York around the 14th of May, is also tentatively on the UB schedule, but no commitments have been made as yet.

A nucleus of four returning lettermen, plus the addition of three promising newcomers form the bulk of the 1952 team. Vinnie Milewski, Hank Kuba, Gus Lucas, and Bill Tielert are the lettermen, while Lou Saccome, Joe Iovino, and Vin Maioccio have given the team its needed depth. Joe Clark will act as team manager, handling the many details.

The Linksmen will play five home matches and five away. All home matches will be played at the Patterson Country Club in Greenfield Hill, Connecticut, and will get under way at 1:00 p. m.

Providing the initial competition will be a strong team from Adelphi College. The golfsters will meet the Garden City squad away, and a victory can well mean a successful season.

The schedule is as follows: Adelphi College, April 2 (away), Fordham University, April 8 (home), Manhattan College, April 10 (home), Fairleigh Dickinson, April 14 (away), Seton Hall, April 22 (home), Springfield College, April 25 (away), Fairleigh Dickinson, April 29 (home), Adelphi College, May 2 (away), Iona College, May 7 (home), and Seton Hall, May 9 (away). Intercollegiate Tournament is tentatively scheduled for May 14 in New York.

GALS JOIN UB CAVALRY

Cavalry-minded UB women will soon have the opportunity to charge along side their male compatriots when the proposed horseback riding club is formed on the University campus.

Joanne Gofman and Richard Domnitz are the organizers behind the effort to dress the students in jodpurs and send them clattering to class on the back of galloping horses.

Bowlers Down Fairfield

A red-hot battle between a UB intramural all-star team and picked Fairfield University bowlers was won by the Bridgeport keggers in a challenge match held at the Pequonock Alleys on April 20.

Anchorman Don Farrar, with a 314 three-string total and Vic Muniec with a single of 124, led the Purple victory over the men of Fairfield.

The charmed three-hundred circle was broken by Milewski and Bennett, of Fairfield.

UB Lassies Embroidered in Rough Game

The UB lassies defeated the "Scotties" (41-39) in a hard fought YWCA game that saw the University basketballers come from behind with less than two minutes to go. Joan Glover led both teams with a total of 29 points.

An exhibition contest with the Danbury War Memorial Girls Club, played in Danbury, proved to be nearly a war as far as the girls were concerned. Danbury won 48-37.

Beth Drexler, Jody Whitehurst, Joan Hutchinson, Janet Berglund, and Jean Johnston are still counting their assorted bruises, while Joan Glover is sporting a beautiful black eye. . . . And basketball is supposed to be a man's game. My! My!

SPA Pin-Busters '52 IM Champs; Second Slot Tie

The closeness of the intramural bowling race was indicated when Alpha Gamma Phi, which had been coasting along at the head of the league for several weeks, lost its last two matches and suddenly found itself tied in fifth place, out of a playoff position.

Sigma Phi Alpha finished first during the regular season, followed by Beta Alpha, the BBJ's, and Alpha Phi Omega.

Following are the standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Sigma Phi Alpha	33	7
Beta Alpha	30	10
BBJ's	30	10
Alpha Phi Omega	27	13
Alpha Gamma Phi	26	14

SPA, 1952 Basketball Champs, Defeat All-Stars in Playoff

By VIC MUNIEC

In a hard-fought but cleanly-played struggle that went into overtime, Sigma Phi Alpha, undefeated champions of the fraternity league, defeated the All-Stars, victors in the independent league, by a score of 64 to 56 in the finals of the intramural basketball season.

With about one minutes to go in the regulation time, Joe Kerpchar (SPA) stole the ball to tie up the score. Wilbur Johnson of the All Stars then raced under the basket to tap in a rebound that again sent the Stars out in front. With less than 20 seconds to go, Andy Olayos again stole the ball for SPA and drove in to sink the basket that sent the game into overtime, (52-52).

In the overtime period, Costa and Kerpchar sank quick baskets for SPA to make the score 56-52. Warren Van Hise narrowed the margin to two points with a beautiful shot from side court. However, Costa popped in a two pointed and Lefty Brown sank a short-set and a lay-up in quick succession to widen the SPA margin to 62-54. Baskets by Voccoia of the Stars, and Olayos of SPA, brought the classic to a close with the score 64 to 56 in favor of the fraternity league champions.

Playoff games to determine finalists proved to be as exciting as the championship battle itself. In the fraternity playoffs, Hal Trischman and Don Glasing led AGP to a 46-44 victory over KBR. In turn, Joe Kerpchar led SPA to a 39-35 victory over AGP.

Marina Hall won a forfeit victory over UCU in the Independent League playoffs but fell victim to the All-Stars by the narrow margin of 53-52. In this game, Vincent Voccia, with nine seconds to play, stole the ball at mid-court and scored the winning basket. The final horn blew as the ball was circling the rim.

IM Sports Trophy Race Close Battle; AGP Leads

By VIC MUNIEC

Alpha Gamma Phi continues to lead in the IM race for the All-Sports Trophy Award, although Sigma Phi Alpha and Marina Hall are close behind.

Excluding bowling, which may change the standings considerably, AGP has a total of 116 points, SPA has 111, and Marina Hall, 99. With six sports still to go, the race is wide open, and almost every team is still in the running. Following is the list to-date, excluding bowling:

Alpha Gamma Phi	116
Sigma Phi Alpha	111
Marina Hall	99
All-Stars	66
Alpha Phi Omega	60
Park Hall	56
Pi Omega Chi	53

IM All Stars Led by Costa

The 1952 edition of the Intramural All-Star cagers is headed by SPA's high scoring forward, Frank Costa, "Mr. Basketball" of the current season.

Costa earned the award by virtue of his scoring ability, team leadership, and fine sportsmanship on the boards.

Teammates on the dream five are Don Marchette, Theta Sigma; Don Glasing, Alpha Gamma Phi; Wilbur Johnson, All-Stars; and Vinnie Milewski, Kappa Beta Rho.

Chosen to represent the second team in All-Star representation are: Hal Trischman, Alpha Gamma Phi; Bill Crystal, Marina Hall; Joe Kerpchar, Sigma Phi Alpha; Larry Bluth, Alpha Phi Omega; and Larry Ricciarelli, UCU.

Anastas, Mehorter Enter National AAU

By AL LEPOW

Two of UB's most promising aquatic stars, Sand Mehorter and Frank Anastas, will represent the University of Bridgeport in the Senior National A. A. U. Swimming and Diving Championships, to be held at Yale University on April 5, 1952.

Sports Calendar

With the coming of Spring, the UB Intramural Sports program swings into high gear. Six Spring sports are scheduled, commencing on April 2nd when softball takes over.

Following is the Spring calendar:

Softball

Season will begin on April 2. All games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 3:30 P. M., on Seaside Park Diamonds 4 and 10. A meeting of all team captains will be held at 4:00 P. M., March 31, in the Athletic Office.

Volleyball

Season will begin on April 7. All games on Mondays beginning at 3:00 P. M. Games will be played behind Bishop Hall, Easton lot. Roster of not less than 10 men.

Horseshoes

Same as volleyball, except the team roster must list 3 men.

Tennis

Will begin on April 14. All matches will be held at Seaside Park Tennis Courts. Three men on a team, and the same three men must play in all the individual team's matches.

Golf

Will be held on May 6 and 13, at Fairchild Wheeler Park. Individual competition rather than team. No points awarded to teams.

Track

Tentatively scheduled for first week in May.

Anastas has recently tied the Olympic free style record, and will carry the hopes of UB into the National meet. A victory here will virtually assure him of representing the United States in the Olympics during the coming Summer.

Mehorter, on the other hand, is a diving specialist. Sand has recently beaten both divers on the world famous Yale team, and is currently unbeaten in any diving competition he has entered. He, too, will almost be assured of an Olympic berth in the event of a victory on April 5.

Both men have been kept in perfect shape by their competition at the local YMCA. These finsters, joined by what could have been the UB varsity swimming team, have been representing the Bridgeport YMCA and have hung up quite an impressive record to date.

Besides the National AAU Meet, Anastas and Mehorter will compete in the Connecticut AAU Meet on March 22 at Yale, Connecticut State YMCA Meet at the Bridgeport YMCA on March 29, and the National YMCA Meet to be held at York, Pennsylvania on April 23-24-25.

Cinema Coments

By JAMES T. MEHORTER

A born storyteller, as opposed to a novelist, is a man who can make one believe any number of improbabilities at least long enough to accomplish his purpose of entertaining you. C. S. Forester is an acknowledged master of the art of inducing credulity and it is a fair guess that The African Queen was a successful example of his skill.

But on the screen—perhaps because James Agee, who wrote the script, is a serious novelist—the yarn won't wash. One sits there watching Katharine Hepburn, the missionary lady, fall in love with Humphrey Bogart, the dissolute riverboat captain; one witnesses the radiant happiness of their amorous encounters; one notes that their rickety craft navigates safely through rapids and over cataracts that would dash a steel barrel to pieces.

One sees Bogart manufacture two torpedoes out of old gas cylinders and some sticks of dynamite; one observes that, as one had expected, the oddly-paired lovers are snatched from the very gallows when the German gunboat on which they are captives (this was during World War I in Africa) runs over their derelict and sinking homemade torpedo boat. And as these marvels are unfolded, one crosses his legs in irritation and wishes himself home with Ava Gardner.

For one thing, the picture does not move fast enough to outstrip one's doubts; for another, Agee and John Huston, the director, have made the mistake of injecting notes of realistic personality into their characters; for a third, the expense of all this foolishness is oppressively evident. It should be noted that Bogart, as a timid braggart and bourgeois pirate, contributes a few moments of comedy to the long spectacle of lush nonsense, and that Robert Morley, in early scenes as an unctuous and poisonous British missionary, demonstrates once more his gift for mesmeric hamminess.
